StradivariNEW YEAR 'All Waltz'

Into the new year with momentum

The StradivariORCHESTER invites you to a New Year's concert. Under the motto "Alles Walzer", the musicians invite you to a festive and lively start to the year. With the sparkling waltzes by Strauss, the audience starts the new year in a cheerful and lively manner. All waltzes - into the new year with verve This year, visitors can look forward to a festive New Year's concert all about the waltz. Under the motto "Alles Walzer", the Stradivari Orchestra will dedicate itself to the glamorous music world of Strauss, whose waltzes are still a symbol of joie de vivre, elegance and Viennese esprit. The sparkling melodies and dance-like rhythms invite you to indulge and sway along. and lend the start of the year a lively, cheerful note. The program combines a selection of the most beautiful Strauss waltzes, which bring the magic of 19th century ball music into the concert hall. Between lively virtuosity and delicate melancholy melancholy, these works show the entire spectrum of Viennese dance music and reveal how masterfully Strauss was able to combine entertainment and musical sophistication. Thus the StradivariNEWYEAR 2026 promises a festive, glamorous and rousing start to the new year. Exchange with the musicians A unique feature of the StradivariFESTS is the wonderful conversations between the Stradivari musicians and the audience after the concerts. For initiator and artistic director Maja Weber, it is a matter close to her heart to get in touch with the audience. The aim of this valuable dialog is to enable people to get to know each other and, of course, to encourage them to talk about what they have heard. be encouraged. This will be heralded by an aperitif, to which everyone is cordially invited. Note: This text was translated by machine translation software and not by a human translator.
